Hi Tim,

Hope all is well. I got an email last week from Adam Driscoll on the construction management side asking for contact info for the responsible party to sign up for DWP accounts for irrigation. I told him to hold off for now and we needed to start the maintenance agreement discussion again.

Adam outlined the items needed for the agreement and you have the sample we had sent you.

On our end, besides the maintenance items, we need to know the quantities of each and it would help if you guys had any estimated costs we would need to budget for down the road.

Let me know the next steps to start working on this.

Thanks,
Aaron
